Review the cask particulars and the sample terms on page 2. In the portal, the client can view required documents and record their review. In this separate sandbox demonstration, the admin can act as the fictional client and sign through DocuSign.

FINEWORTH

Sample terms & client acknowledgement

DEMONSTRATION ONLY - FICTIONAL DATA - NO REAL TRANSACTION

1. Acquisition and balance

The fictional deposit is recorded as received outside the portal. The sample balance is due by 12 November 2026. There is no portal payment facility. In this sample journey, the team confirms cleared funds and ownership paperwork before marking acquisition complete.

2. Cask particulars and storage

The particulars describe one imaginary cask in bonded storage. OLA and RLA are distinct dated measurements. Maturation can reduce volume and change strength. The sample storage reference is illustrative and is not evidence of title, insurance or warehouse acceptance.

3. Fees and exclusions

For illustration, annual management is 1.0% of the purchase price, billed annually from completion. Brokerage is 2.0% of future gross sale proceeds only when Fineworth arranges a sale. Storage, insurance, bottling, delivery and taxes are excluded from these sample figures and require a separate agreed schedule.

4. Client review and next steps

The client reviews the agreement and supplies any documents requested by the team through the private portal. Compliance records remain staff-only. Acknowledging a document does not by itself approve compliance or confirm payment. Repeat trades would have their own paperwork and activity.

5. Demonstration status

All identities, assets, figures, fee rules, dates and terms in this PDF are invented for software demonstration. This is not an approved Fineworth contract, investment recommendation or real purchase. The sandbox signature does not initiate a real transaction.
